Call for Applications for the Double Degree Master Program with Université Paris Dauphine-PSL 2020/21 for Student in the Master Program “Money and Finance” (MMF)

The Faculty of Economics and Business has signed an agreement for a new Double Degree Master Program with the partner university Paris Dauphine-PSL. Students of the MMF can apply for the program and obtain two degrees, the “Master of Science in Money and Finance” from Goethe University and the Master “Économie et Finance” from Université Paris Dauphine-PSL.

The Double Degree Master Program is designed to take four semesters. The 1. and the 2. semester correspond to the normal curriculum of the Master Program at the home institution. Students spend their 3. semester (winter term) in Paris and are enrolled in the Master study program "Économie et Finance". They can spend their 4. semester (summer term) either at University Paris Dauphine-PSL or in Frankfurt. During both semesters, students from Frankfurt have to obtain 36 ECTS credits from courses of the French study program and 24 ECTS by writing a Master thesis. There are at least ten spaces for the Double Master’s Program.

Funding:
The Erasmus+ program provides partial funding of approximately 390 Euros per month. This amount takes higher living expenses abroad and travel costs into consideration. There is no further funding for these costs.

Eligibility:
- Students in the Master program “Master of Science in Money and Finance” who started their studies in winter term 2019/20 and will be in their third semester in winter term 2020/21.

Requirements for Participation:
- Adequate language proficiency (TOEFL iBT 100 or IELTS 7.0 mandatory; French B1 recommended, please see below).
- To be ultimately admitted to the programme students have to prove when having finished their second semester:
  - 30 ECTS credit points “Fundamental Modules” from the curriculum in semester 1, and 30 ECTS credit points from the curriculum of semester 2. One module can be retaken unless it is not a “Fundamental Module”.

You may apply for the Double Degree Master Program and the regular one-semester exchange (Erasmus+ and worldwide) simultaneously. For the latter, please refer to the corresponding (separate) call for applications and use the specific application form of the program. The application for the Double Degree Master Program has priority over the application for the regular exchange programs (Erasmus+ and worldwide). If your application for the Double Degree Master Program is successful, you are required to accept your program offer, and you will not be admitted to the regular one-semester exchange program (Erasmus+ or worldwide).
